

Germantown Wisconsin

An inviting village of approximately 20,000 residents, Germantown Wisconsin is a community of charm, history and friendly neighborhoods. Voted as "One of the Best Places to Live" by Money Magazine, this small town has distinguished itself as a welcoming environment with much to offer both residents and visitors. Not only are the people of Germantown welcoming and hospitable, but the natural beauty of this village is evident at every turn. From tree lined streets, large parks and hiking trails; the landscape is appealing to all who pass through, visit or live in this pleasant township.

For the golfer, over a half a dozen golf courses including the much appraised 45-hole course, Zimmermann's Kettle Hills, are located in and around the village. In addition, a dozen golf courses are within a half-hour drive, in the city of Milwaukee. Further perks are available for the outdoor enthusiast as Germantown boasts 10 parks providing tennis courts, baseball diamonds, soccer fields, playgrounds, and more.

Visitors to Germantown should not pass up the opportunity to take part in the community's many weekend activities and annual festivals. Whether it's sampling Reiberdatschi (potato cakes) or sausages at the annual Oktoberfest celebrations or picking strawberries, blueberries and pumpkins for a delicious pie; this small Wisconsin village is big for creating lasting memories.

Germantown is only 20 miles northwest of downtown Milwaukee, creating an easy commute to the city for business, shopping and the Milwaukee International Airport. This village certainly provides its residents with the best of both worlds; small town charm and big city convenience. It's not hard to see why this captivating little town is so appealing to its residents and visitors.

Picture perfect, intimate and friendly; Germantown Wisconsin certainly lives up to its reputation as being one of the best places to live in North America.
